

The GLW Pig Grower diets are designed to meet the needs of all growing pigs up to 12 weeks of age in all environments. They are formulated to give maximum pig performance

The GLW Pig Grower range of diets are specifically formulated to give producers the ability to select exactly the right feed for the age, weight, genotype and environment of their animals.

The diets are manufactured from carefully selected and quality assured raw materials, to the highest standards of production and traceability to ensure high quality, consistent products.

All diets are formulated using the most accurate raw material analysis available and utilizing Net Energy values so as to closely match the young pigs requirements.
